Procedures for the Organization of an International Competition ITTADS

PREAMBLE

The rules of Table Tennis SU-DS are adapted from the International ITTF regulations. However, they are designed to facilitate understanding of the players and enabling people with Down syndrome to participate in international competitions despite their differences, their difficulties and problems. The rules have small changes, mainly on the role of the referee, the service and the time out.

The umpire role is essential for a good accompaniment parts. The referee is present for guide and coordinates the players and allows the smooth running of the game and the competition.

The referee may possibly request the intervention of the coach adviser to facilitate understanding.

This interruption can be done between two exchanges or during a stoppage of play and should not, as far as possible, disrupt the game, the player or his opponent.

Article 1 - The service

The service starts when the ball lies on the palm of the free hand must be held immobile in the open position and flat.

Free hand when it is in contact with the ball during the execution of the service must at all times be above the level of the playing surface and behind the baseline server. The ball is thrown vertically and without communicating to effect, at least 16 cm when the ball descends from the top of its trajectory, the server hits so that it touches first his own camp and then passing over the net or bypassing key, the camp raiser.

As soon as the ball was thrown, the free arm of the server must be removed from the area between the ball and the net.

Derogation accepted:

Free hand when it is in contact with the ball during the execution of the service must at all times be above the level of the playing surface and behind the baseline server.

The involvement occurs from the free hand, without obligation launched vertical. However, the server must hit the ball so that it touches first his own camp and that of the receiver directly after crossing the net.

Article 2 - Time out

When the ball is not in play, each coach has the right to request an interruption of 1 minute to give instructions to the athlete at any time a party, but only one time out per game.

For this, it suffices to ask announcing: "time out" to the umpire. The coach who did not ask the dead time also benefits from stopping to give instructions to his player.

Time is 1 minute for 2 players, even if one or the other does not take all that time.

Article 3 - Competitions

Games are played in 5 winning sets.

The parties may also play 3 sets win at the discretion of Technical Officer.
